A hinged, inclined board with a cup mounted near the unhinged end is propped up with a rod and a ball is set on the board next to the cup. When the rod is quickly removed the ball falls into the cup.