A high-voltage transformer is used to create an electrical arc between two vertical conductors. As the hot, ionized gas created by the arc rises, so does the arc.

7, top of 7, rods, clamps

PIRA DCS SD40.10