Whiteboard Optics

Magnetically-mounted optical components are arranged on a whiteboard in any of a number of classic configurations taught in geometrical optics. The light source provides one to five independently aligned rays. Available components include the thin concave lens, thin convex lens, flat mirror, concave mirror, convex mirror, triangular refraction block, and rectangular refraction block.

PIRA DCS 9B61.25