Michelson Interferometer
An interference pattern is generated using a laser and a Michelson interferometer. By observing the interference pattern while rotating the apparatus one may reproduce the Michelson-Morley experiment. A vacuum cell is also available for insertion in the beam.